BITS & PIECES by ye editor

FLATTERED BUT FLABBERGASTED, THAT'S US!

"The dahlias in my garden are unusually large this year. My neighbors all say they are the biggest they have ever seen. I thought you might like to send a photographer to take pictures of them."

"I have just finished setting the tea table for our anniversary party, and if I do say so, the dining room does look awfully nice. We thought you might want to send up a photographer before the guests get here and spoil everything."

These are two examples of actual telephone calls, almost verbatim, which have come to our office recently. More frequent are queries as to why we do not send reporters or photographers to various civic meetings and so forth--barely a week passes without at least one invitation of this nature.

In a way, these are extremely flattering, for the caller apparently credits us with all the resources and equipment of a metropolitan daily! In another way, these well-meant and often spontaneous invitations fill us with dismay, for much as we enjoy serving, a small weekly covering a limited area has only so much capacity!

NO GOT!

We do not have a single full-time reporter or photographer; most small weeklies don't!

Unless an article has a "by-line" showing it was written by someone else, chances are 10 to 1 it was written by yours truly, ye editor. This means literally dozens of stories and thousands of words to write, single-handed, every week.

SCRIBBLING MOMMAS

Dorothy Reed and Jeannine Bottaro, our two "reporters" as of now, are the busy mothers of 6 and 5 children, respectively. As a hobby (and for a pittance) they cover one or two stories per week, apiece. What meetings they can attend in person must, of course, be carefully chosen in advance. Most of the work is necessarily done by telephone--that goes also for ye ed, although we have only two teen-agers and a husband at home, nowadays.

Think back to high school days, recall how long it took you to write, for example, a 500-word theme. Recall also that if you did a good job of it, the gathering and organizing of material took at least as long as the writing itself! This will give you only a glimmer of the work necessary to put together a 16-page tabloid by the painstaking method of offset-lithograph printing which we use. The actual "setting" of type, composition of headlines, and make-up of pages takes at least as many man-hours as newsgathering and newswriting.

DAILY PRAISE

Yet hardly a day passes without some subscriber remarking that this little weekly looks more professional than most of its ilk, and does a more conscientious job of community news coverage. If this is so, it is only because our spare-time staff of semi-amateurs labor with a verve and loyalty which is a constant delight and amazement to us, and without which we would have thrown in the towel long ago--as so many former owners and/or and/or editors of the Outlook have done. (There were at least a dozen of these in the two-year span of the Outlook's existence before we purchased it less than 2 years ago. Prior to that half a dozen different newspapers under at least another dozen owners and/or editors floundered and perished in Carmel Valley in the decade prior to the Outlook's existence.)

SOMETIMES WE GOOF

Unhappily, we do fail, nearly every week, to report some noteworthy local event fully--or even to mention it at all! Ninety-nine times out of one hundred, this is simply because the individual or group involved failed to notify us in time--or at all--or did not provide us with the facts. Often at least half a dozen phone calls (to busy, hard-to-reach people, usually) are necessary to the preparation of a complete and accurate news-story--sometimes in addition to attending a meeting, and there are more than 2 dozen news-worthy Valley groups.

ABOUT PHOTOS:

Now, about photos: Because offset lithograph achieves better photo reproduction than more traditional printing processes, readers enjoy our photos and we enjoy laying them out. But our budget is so limited that we have to "scrounge" the great majority of them. Fortunately, almost all entertainers nowadays, amateur as well as professional, have photos available for press release.

VALUE PUBLICITY

More and more enterprises are becoming public-relations conscious and employ photographers to take pictures of noteworthy events which they participate in or sponsor. In fact, professional publicists from San Francisco to Santa Barbara (literally) keep our mailbox so stuffed with excellent photographs of events outside our chosen territory that it is mighty tempting to use more of them than we do. (The photo of Jane Powell on page 15 is an example.)

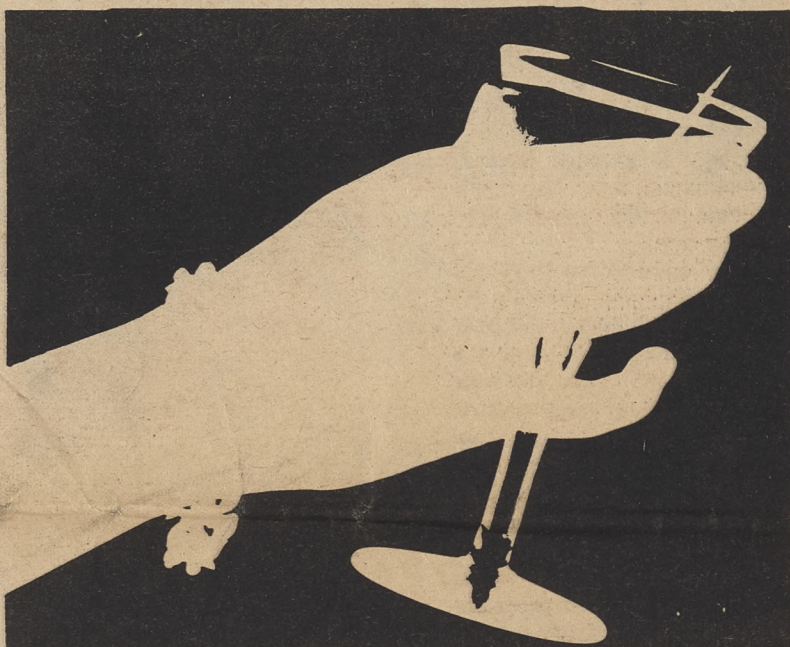

But we are pledged to concentrate on the strictly local: Happily, individuals giving large weddings or parties sometimes ask a photographer to make a pictorial record for family and friends, and we are always delighted to hear about such events. (Mildred Hattan, Valley social columnist--incidentally, she too is the busy mother of 5 and also does most of her work via telephone--is chief "ear" in this regard.) Then we can request permission to have the photographer make extra prints for our publication and everyone's pleasure.

FOR YOUTH ONLY

Only once a month does the Outlook budget allow hiring a photographer for an afternoon or evening (usually George T. C. Smith, since he's a really good free-lancer who depends on photography for his living.) Our rule is that such an event must be for the benefit for children or youth as well as of general public interest. Recent examples were our coverage of local 4-H youngsters at the County Fair and the Annual Tri-County Swim Meet held this year at Carmel High.

We have used a great deal of our limited column space on our own behalf this week--something we don't do too often. We hope all these words will help our readers to understand our limitations and needs a little better.

PARENTS' COMPLAINT

High School Bus

As unofficial spokesman for what is quite apparently a large group of dissatisfied parents of schoolchildren in Carmel Valley, Mrs. Don Myers of Country Club Dr. called the Outlook yesterday.

The dissatisfaction has arisen from the announcement that there will be no school bus transportation for Carmel High School students from the Valley who wish to take first period classes. Junior High School students will be picked up on the first school bus run (see complete schedules, pages 12, 13). High school students will be transported from the Valley in time for second period classes only.

Mrs. Myers, on behalf of numerous other parents with whom she has spoken (some of these have also spoken to the Outlook on the subject) wished to make the following points, which she feels are representative of community opinion:

(1) The Carmel Unified School District should face the fact that the Valley is growing rapidly, and that many more busses will be needed--so why not start getting them now?

(2) If transportation to school is not legally the school's responsibility in California, it is at least unfair to locate the schools at such great distance from residential communities. Schools should be located within reasonable walking distance.

(3) Forcing individual families to arrange transportation for high school students will create more confusion, necessitate many changes of academic program, and discriminate unfairly against students living in this particular locale.

(4) Danger to individual children as well as expense to individual families is inevitable. Hitchhiking along Carmel Valley Road will be encouraged; bicycle riding along the road is dangerous unless and until a bicycle path can be established (as is stipulated in the plans now being developed by James Campbell for the property owners associations). The question of legal responsibility in case of accident, the complications of insurance if rides must be arranged with other than members of a family, are too much to expect individual parents to assume.

(5) In a district with tax assessments as high as those of Carmel Valley--and a district aided furthermore by the inclusion of a large percentage of federal employees, "it's pretty rough to be asked to supply our own bus transportation for students living 10 or 12 miles from the high school!"

You're Invited to Children's House Sunday

To celebrate its second anniversary and the completion of its new classroom building, Children's House of Carmel Valley invites everyone on the Monterey Peninsula to an Open House this coming Sunday afternoon from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The anniversary party has been organized by Mrs. Archer M. R. Allen and Mrs. Arthur Dresser. They will be assisted in receiving guests by other members of the board of directors of Children's House: Dr. Carleton Whitehead, Mrs. Miriam Godwin, Mrs. Helen Dressett, Mrs. Muriel Loesel, Mrs. Catherine Ramsay, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hefling, Mrs. Eunice Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Byington Ford. Also on hand to greet visitors will be hostesses representing Carmel Valley Womens Club, the Altar Society of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, the Womens Auxiliary of St. Dunstan's and the Auxiliary of the C. V. Volunteer Fire Department.

Children are especially welcome, according to Children's House Director Mrs. Byington Ford. It is thought they would enjoy seeing the two small Shetland ponies, Mr. Mike and Miss Irene, who are used in the training and education of the retarded and disturbed youngsters who live at Children's House. Refreshments will be served.

BEST WISHES FROM THE OUTLOOK

Dr. Short to Conduct 5-Day 'Stop Smoking' Course

A well-known retired physician who resides in Carmel Valley will direct a 5-day program for all residents of the Monterey Peninsula who wish to conquer the "smoking habit." Dr. James J. Short, M.D., of Robles Del Rio, whose radio program, "Here's to Your Health," has been heard 5 mornings a week over radio station KIDD for the past several months, describes the program as a "comprehensive assault" on a "complex neuromuscular habit which millions of people seem unable to break."

Group therapy, lectures, films, the "buddy system", a Personal Control Booklet which can be followed at work and the counsel of an experienced medical-psychological team will be offered as a free public service by the Central California Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists. The plan is not, however, a religious program, Dr. Short explains. It deals with such topics as the physical effects of smoking, exercises to strengthen the will-power, and methods for diminishing the physical craving for tobacco. The psychological consultant is Robert E. Dunton of San Jose.

The "Controlled Program" will be conducted on the 5 consecutive evenings from September 8 to 12 at 7:45 p.m. in the Pacific Room of the San Carlos Hotel.

Those who wish to join the program need not register in advance, but should merely put in an appearance at the first meeting, says Dr. Short. Recently, he relates, the program was given in San Jose, and "we planned for 65 the first night, but 170 came--and 130 of these completed the course."

Will he conduct a series here in the Valley if there is sufficient demand? "Of course," says the public-spirited Dr. Short, who has devoted his considerable energies to public service ever since his retirement 2 years ago. During their first year of retirement, Dr. Short and his wife

Parents' Pre -School

Open House for interested parents of pre-school aged children will be held next Monday, September 9, from 10:00 a. m. to noon by the Carmel Valley Parents Cooperative Nursery School at its headquarters in the Education building of Carmel Valley Community Chapel.

Refreshments will be served and there will be supervised play on the grounds. It is expected that visiting parents will bring ALL their children, since school for the older ones will not be in session because of Admission Day, explains director Mrs. Don Johnson.

The Parents Cooperative Nursery School is part of the Adult Education Program of Carmel Unified School District. Pre-school children attend 5 mornings per week and are instructed in a variety of activities (art, music, dancing, etc.) in which they might not have the opportunity to experience otherwise, as few individual homes include facilities and adult talent in such a wide variety of fields.

Parents attend evening classes in child development, family relationships, etc.

A cooperative nursery school differs principally from others, Mrs. Johnson explains, in that each of the 20-odd mothers takes a turn, perhaps once every 2 weeks (depending on how many are enrolled) in assisting the director with the actual school sessions. Thus mothers of young children learn how to feel at home in handling groups of youngsters--also have the opportunity to observe the behavior of their own child toward others his own age, and to compare his or her growth and needs with those of other children in his age-group.

Further information about the school may be had by calling Mrs. Johnson at OL 9-2431.

CARMELO AND TULARCITOS

"It's like coming home and I'm looking forward to a fine year," William Mallek says about being principal of both Tularcitos and Carmelo K-6 grade schools this year. He was principal of the two elementary Valley schools five years ago. Since then he has been at Tularcitos only.

New personnel at Carmelo includes Mrs. Margaret Powers, part-time librarian and secretary. Three new teachers will be Miss Pat Speetzen, 2nd grade; Miss Joan Hagerty, 2nd grade; and Phil Smith, 4th grade. They are all teaching this year for the first time. Miss Speetzen and Miss Hagerty are San Jose State College graduates. Mr. Smith is a graduate of San Francisco State College.

Mr. Mallek emphasizes that lunches costing 30¢ will be sold in the Tularcitos cafeteria. There will be one new teacher in the Upper Valley school. Mrs. Dana Arter Newmann, 4th grade.

Rummage Sale

BY TESS SEDWEEK

The members of the Carmel Woman's Club are heralding the news that their annual rummage sale will be held this year on Thursday, September 12 from nine in the morning until four in the afternoon. This will be in their clubhouse at 9th and San Carlos Streets where the walls are bursting with all kinds of bargains.

The entire membership has put its shoulder to the wheel for this sale and reports are that it will be the best ever. For women there will be a splendid selection of dresses, suits, hats, purses, underwear, shoes, coats, jewelry and other accessories. The children's department is stocked with attractive apparel for the back-to-school set. There are some fine next-to-new men's suits, coats, shirts, underwear, shoes, and the inevitable neckties and belts. For the do-it-yourself man, there are electrical gadgets, garden implements and other things which he can take apart and put together and keep busy for the winter months.

On the patio, plants and garden equipment will be on display and sale, and here shoppers will also find a snack bar where goodies prepared by the club members may be purchased. All members are notably good cooks.

Marie and Herman Tedrow returned to their posts last week following a rest at their mountain retreat.

A speedy recovery to Don Parks who was released from the hospital last week and returned to the family home on Horizon Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barry and daughter, Gayle, of 206 Riker Terrace in Salinas, ended their Santa Barbara-San Francisco vacation with a taste of Valley living at their cabin in Robles Del Rio.

Anne Frances Mayo has made many friends on the daily walk that she takes with her mother, but for those who haven't had the opportunity, we are referring to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom D. Mayo who arrived August 16. She weighed 7# 7 oz. when she arrived at 9:35 p. m. at the Community Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elmen-dorf, Jr., who have rented the Philo house at 64 Lower Circle, have a baby daughter named Eve who was born August 19 at the Community Hospital. Eve, whose birth weight was 4# 11 oz. made an eleven ounce gain last week which just goes to show that our Carmel Valley climate can be recommended for babies AND sun flowers!

Another August arrival, Teresa Helen, was welcomed at 65 Paso Hondo by her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Rudolph and Barry. Valley grandparents of the children are the Vincent O'Connors of Esquiline Road.

And at last a boy joins the baby brigade! Master Shaun Edward O'Neill has come to make his home at 16 Upper Circle with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maxon H. O'Neill and a sister, Kristen.

Home from a six-weeks tour of the United States are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Girard of West Carmel Valley Road. Accompanied by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zekos of Salinas, the Girards toured the east coast up to Quebec and returned home through the central United States.

The Joseph B. Harlows of 66 Rancho Road have returned from a week in San Francisco.

An accidental shooting took the ambulance crew to the Jimmie Bell Ranch at Jamesburg at 10:45 a. m. on Labor Day. Horace John Randazzo, Jr., age 13, of 1012 Rosita Road in Del Rey Oaks was accidentally shot in the right ankle with a .22 by eight-year-old Robert Daniel Wolter III of 981 McCallon St., also Del Rey Oaks. First aid was administered to the injured lad who was then transported to the Fort Ord Hospital.

Labor Day was moving day for the Don Cummings family who left Lower Circle for the new home that they are building off Los Agriensors in Robles Del Rio.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Dutton and children, Mary Ellen and Gene, have returned to their home on Toyon Way from a vacation trip that took them to visit Orville's brothers, sister, and mother whom they hadn't seen for five years. They visited in El Campo and Arlington, Texas, and Iowa, Kansas.

FIRE AND FIRST AID

A grass fire on the county right-of-way on the Los Laureles Grade Road burned an eighth of an acre before it was controlled last week by members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department. Three local trucks backed up by one truck and crew from the Tularcitos Guard Station answered the alarm at 1:07 p. m. on August 27. The fire was believed to have started from a carelessly tossed cigarette.

S. T. B. Johnson, Jr. of South Salsipuedes was transported to Dr. Van Horn's office and then to the Fort Ord hospital with facial and chest injuries. A car driven by Johnson collided with the "Esquiline Oak tree" near Rosie's Cracker Barrel at 7:29 p. m. on August 29.

An unoccupied dwelling being constructed on property owned by Ned Skilling on Salsipuedes was totally destroyed by fire August 31. Four trucks and 18 volunteers answered the alarm that was received at the fire house at 8:55 p. m.

Home from a Colorado vacation in time to model for the C. V. Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary fashion show is Mrs. Jack Lundin of West Carmel Valley Road. Honey enjoyed the scenic beauty of the Rocky Mountain state and tells a delightful story of transporting "antiques" home on the train!

Mr. and Mrs. Zane Speiser, formerly of Exeter, are new Valley residents at 33 Holman Road. Mr. Speiser will be an instructor in the art department at the new Seaside High School. Mrs. Speiser, also a teacher, plans to substitute this year along with her busy schedule that includes a daughter, Tegen, who will be a second grader and a three year old son, Benjamin.

The Jack Simons family has returned from an extended trip and are now at their home in Jamesburg.

Dual Birthday Celebration

Labor Day this year brought a dual birthday celebration to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moore at 31 Lower Circle, Carmel Valley. Their grandson, Eduardo, was one year old last Monday, in fact--friends will recall with a chuckle--the co-incidence of his birthday with that of his paternal grandfather somewhat disrupted a similar family party just one year ago! One hundred and fifty friends from the Valley, Salinas, and all parts of the Peninsula gathered for refreshments and congratulations.

(1) Family portrait; Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Moore, the junior Louis Moores, and younger brothers Juan and Jose. (2) Joe Ricupero as raconteur, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Dibbern, Mrs. Ricupero, and Mrs. Harold Sands. (3) Morden Buck surrounded by a bevy--Mmes. Joanne Nix, Heather Jensen, Byron Blount, and C. W. Van Horn. (4) Eduardo Moore, an 8th generation Californian, behaved like a patrician and received appropriate compliments from Pamela and Mrs. Leo A. Marihart. (5) Chester Moore, a feline of the advanced age of 13 years, accepted attention from Margie Stewart. (6) Here from Roseville for the occasion, Mrs. Myma Moore, son, and husband, posed for the family album. (7) Al and Nelle Fry as their usual charming selves.

QUILA CONWAY NOW MRS. KURT TACH

Mrs. Quila Conway told friends gathered at the home of Henry and Mona Williams on Friday afternoon of last week that she and Kurt Tach planned to be married the next day.

The ceremony was performed in Judge Richard Eldred's chambers in Pacific Grove.

At the Williamses' home when the news was told were guests invited to celebrate the birthday of Jesse Lynch Williams, Jr. who is Henry Williams' brother. Mona Williams is Quila Tach's sister.

TYLERS HERE

A YEAR ABROAD

Colleen Creedon and her three children, Ann, Bart and Poppy, flew East on Friday. After five days in New York they sailed on the S.S. France for England where they plan to spend a couple of months then travel on the continent for the rest of a year's stay abroad.

"We are planning no itinerary and will just go places that strike our fancy," Colleen said. The trip will be part business for her and entirely "educational" for her teen-age daughters and son.

WENDY TO WED

In All Saints' Episcopal Church on September 21, Wendy Myrle Wiegman will be married to Steven Cary Littell.

The young couple's engagement was announced last week by Wendy's mother, Mrs. Beatrice Catlin Wiegman of Carmel.

Steven, who is studying Arabic at the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monterey, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Heth Littell of Buffalo, New York. His parents will come West for the wedding.

Wendy is a graduate of Carmel High School and Stephens College in Missouri. Steven graduated from Taft School in Connecticut and attended the University of Buffalo before entering the U. S. Navy.

Following their marriage, Wendy and Steven will live in Carmel until Steven completes his D. I. I. course in March.

SHORTS VISIT

John and Peggy Short were here for three days this past weekend, then returned to their summer home in Inverness. They expect to come back to the Peninsula again before leaving with their three children, Manda, Lenci and Jody for a year in Scotland where John plans to work towards a master's degree in English at the University of Edinburgh. He has been teaching at MPC for the past several years.

SCHOOL IN ITALY

AZORES ENCHANTING

Mr. and Mrs. Frank de Amaral of River Ranch visited the Azores Islands on the six-weeks trip they took this summer. They were enchanted by the islands which Mr. de Amaral's parents left when they came to this country to live.

Prime purpose of their flight to Europe was to see their son, Captain Frank de Amaral, Jr., who is stationed with the U. S. Army in Germany, also his wife and three children.

The de Amarals greeted a new grandson at their son's home in Heidelberg. The baby is named Zane. His brother is Frank III, now five years old and his sister is M-Liz (Mary Elizabeth), two.

Latest on the Swimming Pool Front

BY JEANNINE BOTTARO

A show of hands demonstrated that a community swimming pool will be built--Crosby fund or no! The occasion was Tuesday night's meeting of a small but enthusiastic group of Community Center members at the Center building to bring into existence an official swimming pool committee.

The new committee will work under the Community Center Board with the desired end being the realization of the pool.

As originator of the citizens' group which is now the official swimming pool committee, Mrs. Leo Berta opened the meeting. Mrs. Creston Crockett, a long-time worker for the Community Center and one of its past presidents, reviewed the background and status of the project. Doyt Early, who has been chairman of the swimming pool committee and has since become acting president of the board, defined the present situation--that of awaiting the action of the Bing Crosby fund.

After a quickly paced and well organized summary by Mrs. Crockett of the problems that will confront the new Steering Committee, various individuals volunteered to serve. These included Mrs. Michael Antoncich, Robert Cunningham, Mrs. Marian Crush, Robert Jones, Jay Porter, Mrs. Boyd Huff, and Mrs. Crockett. The group decided to choose another member of the community to bring the group to eight members, and several names were recommended.

Then members of the Steering Committee met to choose its officers. These were Robert Cunningham, chairman; Mrs. Charles Crush, secretary; Mrs. Boyd Huff; Jay Porter, engineering coordinator; Mrs. Creston Crockett, recreational liaison; Mrs. Michael Antoncich, publicity chairman; Robert Jones, operations chairman. These plan to meet again next Wednesday.

Community Chapel Plans Youth Panel Next Wednesday

The Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild will open its yearly programs on Wednesday, September 11th at 12:30 with a luncheon, to be followed by a Panel of Speakers on the Youth Problem in Carmel Valley and on the Peninsula. New residents of Carmel Valley are cordially invited to attend and get acquainted.

The panel will be composed of Louis Gardner, a member of the Carmel Valley Youth Board and also of the Youth Study Committee; William Wakefield, a recreation specialist of Carmel Unified School District; Rev. James Brock of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, also a member of the Youth Study Committee; and Mrs. Russell Branch, Jr., formerly an instructor in developmental reading at Stanford University Counseling and Testing Center, now editor of the Outlook.

Joanne's Birthday

Mrs. Frank Miller and Mrs. Don Laird assisted Mrs. Joanne Sears in receiving approximately 200 guests who last weekend visited the now-familiar small shop next to the Carmel Valley post office to offer congratulations on the completion of a very successful first year.

Miss Sally Bennett selected the winner of a $25 merchandise prize. It turned out to be a visitor from Palo Alto--a Mrs. Mullen, the houseguest of Col. and Mrs. William N. Taylor of Boronda Rd.

Citizens Invited To Discuss "Minor Subdivision" Rule

A meeting of county staff members from the Planning Dept., the Road Dept., and the Sanitation Dept. with planning commissioners and interested representatives of Valley organizations has been announced by Dr. Edward Marcucci, commissioner from the Valley. Purpose: discussion of the Minor Subdivision Ordinance which has been in preparation over a period of many months. The group will meet Thursday evening, September 12, at 8:00 at the Carmel Valley Inn, and the public is invited.

The ordinance would require approval by staff members of all land divisions into fewer than four parcels and involving sites less than 2 1/2 acres in area. The county subdivision ordinance as it now stands regulates all divisions into four or more lots.

Marcucci expressed the hope that the Chamber of Commerce, all Property Owners Associations and other Valley organizations would be represented at the meeting, in order to work out a satisfactory form for the ordinance. It was opposed by letter last week at a PlanCom hearing by two Republican groups, the C of C, and the CV Realty Co.

The ordinance appears on the agenda for the PlanCom meeting September 11, but under the circumstances, Marcucci said, a postponement can be essentially taken for granted.

YOUTH CENTER OPEN HOUSE IN CARMEL

A special invitation to Valley teen-agers and their parents to visit the Carmel Youth Center on the evening of its Open House, Sept. 6, from 8:00 to 11:00 comes from Director Jack Giles, in the light of the Valley's present concern with the recreation problems of youth.

All Carmel Unified School District teen-aged young people are eligible to attend or join the Carmel center; membership cards for the rest of the calendar year are $1.00.

The Tenor Tones, an eight-piece dance band, will play for the Open House, through the courtesy of the Transcription and Trust Fund, Local 616, American Federation of Musicians. Refreshments will be served by the general membership as hosts and hostesses, and the building's facilities, such as its assembly hall and game room, will be on display.

On Saturday evening, a high school football rally at 7:30 will be followed by a dance at the Center, at which the popular Phil Ben Quartet will play for the last time this year. Admission to the dance is 50¢ and all Carmel High students are invited, with emphasis on those new to the school.

Carmel High School

Students he has seen this week and last are enthusiastic about opportunities offered in Carmel High School's new program of an eight-period day starting at 8 a.m. and ending at 3:25 p.m., Principal Warren Edwards reports.

Carmel High will be an experimental school for the State of California this year. Approval has been obtained for physical education to be taught two days a week for two hours instead of one period each day. The same two hours-two days a week program will also be applied to crafts, shop, business, home economic and speech courses, and biology and chemistry labs. Students, however, may still avail themselves of daily P.E. instruction if they prefer this scheduling.

Each of the eight daily periods will last 50 minutes. A full period will be allowed for lunch and students may take this break during the 4th, 5th or 6th periods according to whichever time best fits their schedules.

Food will be served in the cafeteria at the same prices as last year--but from machines. Mr. Edwards expects the automated cafeteria to be in operation on opening day.

Another innovation at the high school will be supervised classroom study for 15-18 students with a teacher available to answer questions during a full period. The library will be used for resource work only, according to Mr. Edwards.

There will be four new members of the faculty. Mrs. Mary Brinston will teach home economics. August de la Guardia, a Stanford teaching intern, and Joseph Rivard will be Spanish instructors. Miss Jeanne Cremer will be the new librarian.

Mr. Edwards estimates high school opening enrollment will be 650 students as compared to 610 last June. The greatest increase he says, will be in the senior class--last of the wartime "baby boom".

Junior High

Dr. Walter Klas, principal, is delighted that a "late bus" will be provided to enable students to participate in a much broader after-school-activities program.

He expects an enrollment of 615 students as opposed to 562 at the end of last year. Ten or 12 students recently annexed from Palo Colorado and Captain Cooper districts will be included in the increased attendance.

New teachers will be CV's own Ariel Lane, now a San Jose State College teaching intern, math instructor; Miss Marilyn Nettle-ship, homemaking, typing and math; Miss Bonnie Barry, home-making; Robert Walthour, history and physical education; Mrs. Mary Kissling, French, Spanish and history.

POSTPONE HEARING

Although the County Planning Commission lists CV Road Plan Lines on its Sept. 12 agenda, it has indicated that the hearing will be postponed to allow completion of a report now being prepared by planner James Campbell.

Lively Morning Likely At Zoning Board

Two applications for use permits to erect multiple dwellings in Carmel Valley on land zoned C-1 will come before the Board of Zoning Adjustment September 11. Both have been recommended for approval by the Upper Valley Advisory Committee.

Edward Weiner has submitted plans for a 16-unit two-story residence on the south side of Ford Rd. close to Lilac. His application states that adjoining property is already occupied by a multiple residence, the site is not suitable for a store, and that the scarcity of rental units in the Valley for both military and retired people makes the project desirable. The hearing is scheduled for 11:00.

At 11:10 Henry Perry will present, for similar reasons, a 7-unit apartment plan on Village Drive opposite the Professional building. The Advisory Committee has suggested that in this project no storage be permitted in carport areas except what can be contained in closed cupboards shown in the design.

Multiple dwelling is a permitted use in a C-1 district, subject to the obtaining of a use permit and to design and parking control.

Glen Low of Aliso Rd. has applied for a zoning variance to raise chinchillas in a special structure to be built at the back of his lot. He hopes to keep as many as 200 breeding females with, on occasion, up to 500 young. He maintains that chinchillas are quiet, odorless animals, and that 500 of them are less obtrusive than a dozen rabbits would be. (Zoning for limited agricultural use in the area permits a maximum of 12 animals.) Mr. Low's hearing is to take place at 10:50 a. m.

Monterey Peninsula Associates is seeking a two-year renewal of its permit to mark the entrance to Carmel Knolls with low adobe walls carrying the subdivision name. The location of these signs played a prominent part in the controversy last week between subdividers and residents over rezoning for commercial use the area immediately inside the western wall.

Trail and Saddle Club of Carmel Valley

TEEN-AGERS

Teen-aged members worked in the snack bar, handled the cattle, took tickets at the gate, acted as messengers, and generally made themselves useful. This group included Pat and Nancy Porter, Linda Kay Hudder, Caroline Wolter, Martha Ziegler, Orley May White, Linda Roberts, Ellie Burton, Brian Riddell, Mark Pack, Lyn Campbell, Donna Carter, and Andy and Randy Siino.

A complete list of winners has been carefully compiled by our anonymous informant and will have space priority for publication next week.

CHEERS FOR SHOW DIRECTOR

To Show Director Elvis Wood, club members agree, goes credit for bringing conditions up to professional keel, with co-chairman of the show Paul Porter and Dallas Pack coming in for a closely tied second. Ed Riddell was track director, Bud Howard in charge of roping and the arena, while show secretary Ruth Bishop handled the bookkeeping for 200 entrants (there were at least as many spectators, as well!). Allene Buchenroth was parade director, Elaine Riddell handled the awards presentations, Ballard White was gate chairman, Dave Osgood, chief timer, and Bob Angell, grounds chairman. Barbara Siino operated the snack bar. An untold number of unsung volunteers assisted with all aspects!

HENRY L. HITCHCOCK

Henry L. Hitchcock, brother of the Valley's Joe Hitchcock, and a native of this area, died Sunday in Palo Alto Veterans Hospital at the age of 75. A third generation Valley resident whose grandfather came to the Monterey Peninsula with Commodore Sloat in 1846, Mr. Hitchcock attended the old Tularcitos school and the Bay school south of Carmel, which his maternal grandfather built. For 40 years he worked with M.J. Murphy, Carmel Builder.

He was married in 1920 in Carmel Mission to the former Mabel Mary Gale who survives him. He also leaves four children and eight grandchildren. Burial will be in the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

BIGGEST CROWDS

Rex White estimated that there were 800 people in Princes Camp on Labor Day--about 250 of these were fed by his crew! Although this was as large a Labor Day gathering as Rex can recall, he says that the opening of trout season this year set an all-time record for the number of guests in the camp--he hesitates even to guess how many! The California Dept. of Fish and Game has continued to stock the upper parts of the Carmel River weekly since then--and a department bulletin stated that still another stocking was scheduled for the coming week. There is still plenty of water at the upper end of the river to make the project feasible!

MID-VALLEY POA

To Discuss CV Road Landscaping

Richard Murray, landscape consultant to Monterey County, will address the regular membership meeting of the Mid-Valley Property Owners Association at Carmelo School, Wednesday, September 11, at 7:30. He will speak on the general subject of landscaping along the Carmel Valley Road, and ask for suggestions from the membership.

Larry Horan, MVPOA president, says there are no pressing items on the agenda, since it is understood that the Planning Commission intends to continue until October the hearing on CV Road Plan lines scheduled for September 11. Professional planner James Campbell of Menlo Park, employed by the joint POA's to draw new plan lines for widening the road while retaining its scenic qualities, is still consulting individual property owners to make sure that his report, when presented, will reflect the wishes of as many people as possible.

Campbell's $2000 fee for submitting a road plan from Highway One to Carmel Valley Village is being shared equally by the County and the Property Owners Associations which have raised the $1000 through a special fund drive for the purpose.
